

IT'S SNOWING IN PRZEMYSL

Heavy Storm has Destroyed
All Telegraph Lines.

Acute Starvation Induced
Garrison's Surrender.

Food Brought by Aeroplane
the Main Sustenance.

PETROGRAD, March 23.—The lack of communication with London is said to be the cause of the heavy snowstorm that fell yesterday and which broke down the telegraph lines.

It is reported, however, that a quarter of the garrison had died of typhoid and scurvy. Although the ration was growing more limited, none but a few officials up to the end of January, when the actual starvation was beginning. The real condition of affairs was learned by the troops when a messenger, who was starting with mail for Vienna, was shot down by the Russians and fell into the hands of the enemy.

The death list was very high. Civilian inhabitants, who had been unable to escape when the city was swarmed about the fort, were being starved to death. The death of two prominent generals in February from typhoid weakened the determination of Von Kumanek, commander of the fortress.

By the end of February, the famine prevailed; scarcely a human animal was left. For weeks the only sustenance was obtained from small supplies of concentrated food brought by aeroplane.

A council of officers considered the situation daily, but not until they were convinced that there was no hope of help from an Austrian relief did they reach the decision to surrender.

HEAVY EXPENSE HANDLING COAL.

Reason Why Railroads Insist on Increased Rates.

Would Add Over a Million to the Annual Revenues.

Objection Raised to Burden
Placed on Consumers.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Heavy expenses in handling coal were given as one reason why the railroads are seeking to increase the freight rates on that commodity in certain territory west of and including Indiana, in the hearing of the western rate case before Interstate Commerce Commission W. M. Daniels today. State-ments were made in behalf of the railroads that the proposed increase on soft coal would average 7.5 cents a ton; that this would impose a burden on the coal consumers in the territory affected of only 5 cents a year for each inhabitant if the increase were added to the retail price of coal, and that the revenues of the railroads from this commodity would be enhanced $1,226,000 a year.

As showing the expense of handling coal, Edward De Groot, Jr., superintendent of transportation of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road, testified that his road paid $4.29 a car, or 5.52 cents a ton for the bare price of assembling coal ready to be hauled away from mines in the Southern Illinois district.

Eugene McAllister, general coal agent of the St. Louis and San Francisco road, testified that the roads "are among the greatest consumers of coal, and to take any action that would curtail the production of coal would injure them."

"What are some of the difficulties in handling coal?" he was asked, on cross-examination.

"An important one is that we are called upon to handle coal at the time when it costs most—the winter," he replied. "The production of coal is irregular. We assemble cars of coal to find that the coal is not ready for handling. Strikes, accidents or a scarcity of coal in the mine may delay the empty cars."

KILLING BRIDES ALMOST A HABIT.

ALL DIED IN BATHTUB, SAY THE LONDON POLICE.

Extraordinary Case is Revealed
When Prosecutor Makes Announcement of Evidence in Trial of Wealthy Man Who has been a Puzzle to Scotland Yard.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P. LONDON, March 23.—George Joseph Smith, in the Bow-street police court today heard Public Prosecutor Bodkin charge him with murdering three of his wives.

Smith described himself as a man of independent means. According to evidence of Scotland Yard he made use of various fictitious names in his matrimonial ventures. The women he married were found dead a few days after the ceremony. Verdicts of accidental death were first returned, but later certain of the bodies were exhumed and charges of murder preferred.

Names of the three women and the dates of the alleged murders were given by the public prosecutor as follows:

Beatrice Mundy, July, 1912; Alice Burnham, December, 1913, and Margaret Lofly, December, 1914. According to the evidence given at a preliminary hearing Smith was married under the name of John Lloyd to Margaret Elisabeth Lofly at a registry office at Bath in December, 1914. The couple came to London the same day and the next morning the bride was found dead in her bath. Her husband called a doctor, who reported the murder. An inquest was held. The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

In February information reached the police that Lloyd was not the husband's name. He was arrested and identified, the police say, as George Joseph Smith, who in November, 1912, had married at Portsmouth, Miss Alice Burnham, who a month later also had been found dead in her bath. In this case too a coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death. The police also have had the body of another woman exhumed. This woman who also died in her bath, shortly after her marriage, as Herne Bay, was married to a man who gave the name of Henry Williams, and who is believed by the police to be George Joseph Smith.

Prosecutor Bodkin said the accused had been married five times in all. His first wife was Carolina Beatrice Thornhill, who he married in 1898 and who now is on her way to London from Canada.

"The case is remarkable for the greed for wealth which was the dominant motive in the taking of these three lives," the prosecutor said. "We shall show that at the death of two of them, £2500 (£14,000) was obtained and that the prisoner when arrested, was in a fair way to obtain £700 more."

The prosecutor related how Smith had ardently courted each woman and had obtained from each a will making him the sole legatee.

"In the death of these three women precisely similar circumstances existed," Mr. Bodkin said. "Each died of drowning in her bath and each was first discovered by the prisoner."

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PETROGRAD (via London) March 23.—Gen. Kamoroff, acting as a special emissary from Emperor Nicholas, visited the American hospital in Petrograd today, accompanied by two members of the Imperial staff. He was received by the American Ambassador, George T. Murray, Jr., the whole embassy staff, and the president of the hospital.
On behalf of the Emperor, Gen. Kamoroff thanked the Americans for their assistance in caring for the Russian wounded. Twenty of these patients stood at attention during the ceremony. Three of them were decorated by the general for bravery in action.

BUSINESS GOOD EVEN IN FRANCE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
PARIS, March 23.—Presidents of seventy-five French Chambers of Commerce met here yesterday under the presidency of David Mennet, head of the Paris Chamber, to discuss the general commercial situation. All agreed that the conditions which exist are as good as a state of war will permit. The volume of trade, it was asserted, gradually is increasing, and certain districts are even enjoying unusual prosperity, notably those in which are factories working on army contracts, and those beginning to manufacture products hitherto obtainable only in Germany.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

ALASKA TRAPPER IS FOUND DEAD.

COMMITTS SUICIDE AFTER HAVING BEEN TERRIBLY WOUNDED BY A BROWN BEAR.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE.)

SEATTLE, March 23.—King Thurman, a hunter and trapper on Chickaloon flat, Alaska, was found dead in his cabin two weeks ago. On a scrap of paper he had beside him he had scrawled: "Have been tore up by a brown bear. No chance to get out. Good-by."

Thurman had evidently been attacked by the bear when he went to a creek near by for water for a bucket and evidences of a struggle there were found.

Mortally wounded, the trapper had dragged himself to the cabin and then shot himself with his rifle. The last entry in Thurman's diary was on July 25.

Appalled.

DISASTER DAZES BRITANNIA CAMP.

TOTAL NUMBER OF DEAD NOW FIXED AT FIFTY-SIX.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

ALL Hope of Discovering Any More Living Given up, but Men and Women Work Desperately to Recover Bodies Still Buried in the Big Slide.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SALEMAN, March 23.—Although hope of finding any more living among the debris at the Britannia mine was abandoned on Monday evening, every available man and boy in the district worked desperately today to recover the dead bodies buried in the big slide. Twenty-one bodies were recovered up to Monday night but less than half that number were brought to the surface today. The total number of dead is now fixed at 54. Of these five were women and six children.

During the day there were evidences of a second and lesser slide of materials loosened by the slide on Sunday night, but the threatened danger did not deter the rescue parties from their task. Talks with survivors show that the people of the camp are still dazed by the completeness of the destruction.

An inquest will be held at Britannia Beach tomorrow afternoon and at its conclusion the bodies will be brought to this city for interment. A crowd of relatives and friends of the miners met the steamer Ballou on her arrival tonight. A number of survivors, shaken by the experience, landed, included several workmen from the district.

On Palm Sunday he will speak in St. Jude's Mission, Sunset boulevard and Echo Park avenue, on "The Coming of the King."

KILOFOL NOT THERE.

He Does not Appear When Case is Called—Attorney Says He Will Show up Today.

Philip Kilfoil, whose conviction on a charge of having mistreated Miss Lillian Palmer, which has been sustained by the District Court of Appeals, did not appear yesterday afternoon when his case was called before Judge Willis. Attorney Walter V. Dyseret promised that he would produce Kilfoil at 10 o'clock this morning. As a result, no bench warrant was issued.

Kilfoil was ordered to appear following the higher court's denial of his appeal from the sentence of twenty years in San Quentin imposed by Judge Willis several months ago. He is at liberty on $50,000 bail. Mr. Dyseret announced yesterday that he will take the case to the State Supreme Court.

STARTS BALL ROLLING.

Ardent Supporter of Torrens Law Gets First Title to Property Registered by It.

The first hearing for the registration of title to property under the Torrens land law was an event yesterday. The honor fell to Mrs. Della May Campbell, who is president of the Torrens Land Law League of California, and she was the first person to file application for title under the new law in the State.

It had such significance to her that she asked President Judge Wood for the pen with which he signed the decree and when he surrendered his fountain pen, she said she proposed to keep it as a souvenir of the occasion.

Mrs. Campbell's decree is for property located at the northwest corner of Twelfth street and Grand avenue and has a value of $400,000. When the decree was granted there was a triangular procession to the office of County Recorder Logan. Mrs. Campbell was accompanied by Crall & Crall, her attorneys, and Francis G. Burke, examiner of titles under the law appointed by Judge Wood.

The decree ordered the County Recorder to register the title and the simplicity of this ceremony was performed, the title stood good against adverse claims of any person, the State assuring its validity.

As one of the ardent supporters of the law, Mrs. Campbell worked assiduously in its interest. She wrote the arguments in its favor which appeared on the official pamphlet sent to voters. She expressed herself as more than satisfied with the simplicity of the proceedings. The certificate she holds is the only document that must be inspected to determine the status of the property, and she states that "the law will become more and more valuable as its provisions become better known and more and more land is placed under the operation of it. It will not be long until purchasers of real estate and those who lend money on real estate will take no other evidence of title than a Torrens certificate."

"Take the matter of costs. The initial cost is less than the ordinary title insurance policy; after that the cost is only $1 for any transfer. All the costs and vexatious delays of the record are saved under the Torrens system."

"The law is rapid in operation. A transfer of a piece of property can be made in half an hour, which would take days or even weeks under the present method."

"The law is rapid in operation. A transfer of a piece of property can be made in half an hour, which would take days or even weeks under the present method."

THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR.

Puzzle.

OWN DEED OR ANOTHER'S?

Frenchman with Money; Careless of It.

Men are of Murder, Say Detectives.

A Frenchman was found hanging from a factory building at Sichel and Alameda road yesterday afternoon last identified as a Frenchman said to have been of large means and to live in the vicinity of the 1500 block of Fifth street.

Investigation was made by the assistant secretary to the local police agent, Louis Soutou.

Point of identification.

The features well known to the police under the word "Apostrophe" on the dead man's arm. This was the cause of much interest among the detectives. Mr. Soutou was the nickname. He was formerly a waiter among his friends.

He was a widower with no children and immediate relatives. He was a saloon at the corner of Sichel street and Sunset boulevard. His years had not been kind to him. He was a Frenchman ago. Some time he had sold for him a piece of land in Pasadena and had received a large sum from the sale.

Of no reason why he committed suicide," said the police last night. "But on the other hand, he should not be willing to be murdered. It is, of course, because he was very money and I understand found on him. He was very and very careless with his money."

TO POLICE.

He was expert in the ways of the law. He came to blows yesterday morning in the tragedy. Some claim a murderer's victim, and on Fifth Page.)

PIG TO AN ACRE, SAITH THE I.

SO TWO PIGGIES IN A W
MUST MOVE ON TOWAR
MEAT MARKET.

Under a municipal ordinance must have no less than one acre of land to live, if that acre is in the city limits.

Two pigs on less than one acre approach to high misdemeanor at least that is the way Chief Inspector Potts of the health department interprets the law.

Two little white pigs were brought to the city and placed in a lot on East Seventh street. They were there yesterday.

Yesterday these two pigs were in a window at No. 322 West street, where they were used by estate salesmen to help stimulate sale of land.

Complaints reached the health department that the laws of health sanitation were violated by the piggies, and Chief Inspector Potts inspected to give the porkers once over.

They found the pigs. The first show window was littered with straw and clean, but it was not a acre of space.

There was nothing underneath the place, neither was sanitary. The pigs were in a lot, so the pigs had to move one step nearer the slaughter-house only unrestricted place in Los Angeles for live pigs.

They were nice, clean piggies, the chief inspector, "but the ordinance is very strict on pigs. There are places around theaters where and other animals are kept and are not half as clean as pigs, but it is no ordinance to make them on."

POSTAL CLERK STEALS

Orvey R. Turnbaugh, a clerk in the postoffice at Oros, was arrested yesterday before United States commissioner Williams on the charge of embezzling postoffice funds amounting to $58. In default of $3000 he was committed to the County Jail. The young man has made a full confession of his guilt to Postoffice Inspector Ranger. He gives as his excuse that he was hard up.

ON STRATFORD PLAN.

"As You Like It" will be produced by the students of the Holy High School at the school auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings. The drama will be staged in accordance with the Stratford plan. Miss Dickson, the director, spent several weeks last summer at Stratford, attending the plays and lectures of the Stratford players at the Shakespeare Memorial Theater.

When Dr. Baer comes back to Occidental College.

This photograph was made at the Southern Pacific station yesterday as the president of the college and his wife stepped from the train. From left to right, those in the picture are Mrs. Baer, Dr. Baer and Dr. Thomas J. Burt, acting president and dean. Behind them is Frank J. Bouick '15, Oxy's yell leader, in action.

BEDLAM GREET'S RETURN OF OCCIDENTAL'S HEAD.

COLLEGE youth, voiced with the spirit of yells, and the "Hymn of Occidental," with its strains raised by more than 200 students; cheery greetings and hearty handshakes constituted the welcome home given to Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, when he and his wife and daughter arrived at the Southern Pacific Station yesterday afternoon. The return was from a trip of more than four and a half months in the East and Canada.

Nearly the entire student body, many members of the faculty and some of the members of the board of trustees assembled at the railroad station yesterday to extend their welcome to the Baers. Here it was that the demonstrations occurred. Various college yells were given, then followed the hymn, sung with deep feeling. After that came the informal greetings.

Then the party and the students took automobiles, decorated in the black and gold of Occidental, and, headed by the college band, they formed a procession, passing through the business district and thence out to Occidental College.

There were no formalities for the remainder of the afternoon, in order to give Dr. Baer and family time to rest. But today will be a special event at Occidental in honor of the return of its president. An informal reception will be given at 9:20 o'clock this morning at the college. Various addresses will be made by representatives of the board of trustees, the faculty and the student body. Ex-Senator Flint will speak on behalf of the trustees.

Dr. Baer stated yesterday that he has fully regained his health through his sojourn in the East, and that he returns full of enthusiasm for the college work. He will resume his regular duties tomorrow.

During the eastern trip he and his wife and daughter visited various points in Canada and then spent considerable time in the larger cities of the Atlantic Coast.

Schiff.

MASTER OF MILLIONS HAS SELF "GUARDED."

JACOB H. SCHIFF, master of millions, kept feudal state at the Hotel Huntington yesterday, with a retainer at the door.

Arriving at Pasadena yesterday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Schiff and Miss Sacha, a friend, the veteran financier found himself so tired out after his transcontinental tour that he issued peremptory orders that he be not disturbed. The retainer was to enforce this dictate.

Except for a chat with H. E. Huntington, an old-time friend, and a short automobile trip in the afternoon, Mr. Schiff kept close to the handsome suite in which he had been engaged for himself and party many weeks ago.

In fact, so perfectly arranged were the details of the flight of the financier from the clutches of the press, which arrived at Pasadena at 10 o'clock, to the suite at the Hotel Huntington that but few of the hotel guests identified the white-whiskered, nattily-dressed man, hurrying through the lobby, as one of the most astute financiers of the day.

A member of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers de luxe to railroads and mighty corporations, Mr. Schiff's name appears in the list of directors of many mammoth concerns, including the Union Pacific, Western Union Telegraph Company, and National City Bank and Morton Trust Company of New York. He is also a member of the American Museum of Natural History, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the American Geographical Society, and the American Fine Arts Society.

ish Theological Seminary and the Semitic Museum of Harvard University.

Mr. Schiff and party plan to spend two or three days in Southern California and will then go North. They are here after a tour of the South.

THE REAL OPPORTUNITIES.

Chief Engineer of Reclamation Service Writes Commerce Chamber Regarding Two Rivers.

"It seems to me that the Colorado and Sacramento Rivers present the most promising fields for large government operations of any in the West," says A. P. Davis, director and chief engineer of the United States Reclamation Service, in a letter received yesterday by J. E. Lippincott, chairman of the Committee on Conservation and Flood Control of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Davis's significant observation was in connection with a specific denial that it is the intention to transfer the Reclamation Service office, now located in this city, to Salt Lake City.

"I do not know of any intention to move," says Mr. Davis in his letter, after commanding the advantages which this city possesses as a railroad center and as a source of supply for pumping and irrigation supplies.

Regarding future work in impounding the waters of the Colorado River for beneficent uses in agriculture, Mr. Davis says: "It is important that work be done on account of international interests and the fact that the water will be used in Mexico if we neglect

OUTER WARS WITH INNER.

Harbor Controversy Goes to Courts on Injunction.

San Pedro Fears Wilmington is Getting Too Much.

Commission Says One Stone Kills Two Birds.

The Harbor Commission is once more the storm center in the controversy over the expenditure of the two harbor improvement funds—that for the inner and that for the outer harbor. Attack has been made on the Harbor Commission's action through court procedure.

Former Senator W. H. Savage is the nominal plaintiff, although it is said that he represents the sentiments of many harbor district citizens. Yesterday was the time at which it was expected the Harbor Commission would sign the contract, on behalf of the city, for the dredging and filling work awarded to S. G. Hines on March 17. Mr. Savage filed with the Superior Court a complaint, asking for a permanent restraining injunction, preventing the commission from signing this contract.

This order to show cause why a permanent injunction should not issue was secured from Judge Works, and the time for the hearing was set for 1:30 o'clock next Wednesday. No temporary restraining order was asked for, as this would have required time to get in touch with the bonding companies and arrangement for the filing of an indemnity bond, and the plaintiff was anxious to secure the issuance of the order before the commission held its meeting yesterday morning.

This result was accomplished, and at yesterday's session the order from the court lay on the table while the general business was being transacted—but the Hines contract was not signed.

The complaint of former Senator Savage brings forth the old contention that the Harbor Commission is trying to improve the inner harbor at the expense of the outer harbor.

It states that approximately 1,230,000 cubic yards of earth will be necessary to complete the fill at the fisherman's harbor; that about 230,000 cubic yards of this is provided to be dredged from an area in the outer harbor, and that about 1,000,000, or

DEATH'S SUDDEN CALL ON ACTOR.

STRICKEN WHILE PLAYING IN MONTANA AS COMPANY'S LEADING MAN.

Edward A. Foley, an actor of note, who was seen in Los Angeles recently in "The Yellow Ticket," died suddenly yesterday at Miles City, Mont., where his company was playing. Full details are lacking as to the immediate cause of Mr. Foley's death. He leaves a widow and a sister. A sister-in-law, Mrs. Ira S. Deacon, lives at No. 1451 West Thirty-seventh drive.

Mr. Foley was born in Toledo, O., thirty-five years ago. Upon graduation from the High School there he became interested in amateur dramatics. He possessed an excellent voice.

His friends persuaded him to go to New York so have his voice trained. He did this. While studying in New York under a great vocal teacher he took up professional acting. It was soon discovered that he had natural

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
 (At Home.) Reports of a much better business by manufacturers, and intimations that peace is not far off, caused a jump in values of our stocks and bonds that was the greatest of the year. Copper was advanced in price to 15 1/2. Southern Pacific earnings for February show a net gain of $225,000. Our exports for February were the largest in the history of the country, the balance in our favor being $172,604, 386. The Bank of England has ordered $7,000,000 in gold sent to New York to pay for war supplies.
 (For details see financial pages.)

THE MORNING MEAL.
 Maybe if so many people did not eat their breakfast at midnight they would have a better appetite in the morning and would mind it less that the morning has a way of happening so early.

BEGINS AT HOME.
 The French Consul at New Orleans declares that reservists who refuse to fight are traitors and cowards. What about the reservists' patriotism for his adopted America?

THE NEED OF CURVES.
 Sometimes when we consider the stiff, straight-up-and-down columns of modern building and then remember the vibrant, living, carved and inclined pillars of ancient architecture we wonder that the modern world does not perish of brain cramps.

TAKE CARE OF YOURSELF.
 When the Canadians went over to help England and the allies they took traveling workshirts with each regiment in order to keep the unit self-supporting. This is a big man-size idea and one that is applicable to every person and family.

WHY ADVICE IS FREE.
 We mistrust the man who gives advice. Generally he is either trying to explain his own failures to himself or else he has been fairly successful and is looking for an occasion to brag about it. Helping the other fellow is the last thing he is thinking about.

PUBLIC APPRECIATION.
 It speaks mighty well for Los Angeles that the railway company has to give a special five-minute service all Sunday afternoon to carry the crowd to Exposition Park to hear the road music and see the interesting exhibits. Such appreciation on the part of the public inspires officials to prepare good entertainment.

PAYING A DEBT.
 All of the talk of the early Democratic administration about anti-imperialism and giving freedom to the Philippines has ended in nothing. We are glad of it. We would not be surprised if civilization's debt to uncivilized countries is paid in this manner. Perhaps the debt belongs to the nearest neighbor who can best afford the supervision. Anyway, America is foster-brother to the Filipino and daren't desert him so long as he stands in need.

A SAD EXAMPLE.
 The Viking was a brave little vessel used as a holiday cruiser on the southern fjords until the outbreak of the European war. Then it was transformed into the H. M. S. Viking and made into an armed liner. Now it is food for the fish. The British Naval Office has posted it as missing with all of its crew. This simple incident is a fair example of what the outcome of the war will be in 10,000 unhappy directions.

DISCOVERED TOO LATE.
 The police dog is the latest fashion in domestic pets. They are much worn in New York this season. Thank heaven, they are considerably too large for a lap dog and are of some use on the trail of criminals or of crime. Some of them can go over a high wall and one of them on exhibition at a recent bench show could climb a tree. It strikes us as a pity that dogs should learn to climb just at an age when there is no longer any game for them to pursue.

WAITING FOR SUNSHINE.
 We learn with regret that they are having bad weather in the vicinity of the Dardanelles and that, on account of this extremely unsettled condition of the elements, it may be necessary to temporarily withdraw the attack upon those inconceivable forts. We would naturally have expected oriental courtesy to have made the occasion more pleasant for their English and French guests. It seems that we have another guess coming—and so have the allies.

REGARDLESS OF COST.
 All of us know numbers of persons who justify their extravagance by telling you how they love pretty things and how necessary beauty is to them. It happens that most people do love pretty things, but not everybody bankrupts himself in order to take something he does not need and knows he cannot afford. If people were perfectly consistent they could afford such indulgence as actually made for comfort and ease. It happens, however, that a majority of those who want the most are the least willing to do anything to get it and have the least idea of what to do with it when they do get it.

THE TURNING TIDE.
 Ouida makes the average English country gentleman say to his guest: "It's a beautiful morning; let's go and kill something." President Wilson says to his commissioners, "Boys, the country is fairly prosperous, get busy and harass and beak a few more corporations. Call them combinations in restraint of trade. Accuse them of being loathsome capitalists whose purpose is the acquisition of predatory wealth. Go for them!"

Mr. Wilson's commissioners are zealous in drawing their salaries, but not in the least zealous in investigating and prosecuting government suits to discourage the even progress of business. To the report of such prosecutions as are being conducted the newspapers have accorded very little space.

In the case of the Can and Corn Products bearings, which have been going on for some time, many of the large metropolitan dailies have not reported a line of the testimony of the dozens of witnesses called. A Boston Journal says:

"The industrial losses in 1914 were perhaps the worst in history, and producers wonder that they were not even worse. In volume, the record of production was on a par with the same year of 1909. In value the low record of 1908 was eclipsed. Losses in various branches of business in 1914 are summarized as follows by a trade authority: Decrease in 1914 from 1913: Coal output, 20 per cent.; pig iron production, 25; locomotives, 45; general manufacturing, 25; track construction (railroads), 50; equipment (passenger and freight cars), 50; building trade, 30; immigration, 66; foreign credit balance, $450,000,000."

Bradstreet and Dun & Co. report that commercial failures on a basis of total liabilities were about double what they were in 1913. In the last half of 1914 business conditions were much worse than they were in the first half. Equipment companies did not run more than 25 per cent of capacity, and steel production fell 45 per cent.

Since January 1 there has been a decided change in conditions. "Manufacturers," it is said in the article from which we quote, "point out that the new year begins with the stimulus of a trade balance running in favor of this country at the rate of more than one billion dollars a year, and a big exportable wheat surplus at war prices. The increase in winter wheat acreage, amounting to 13 per cent, and the certainty that large acreages of all foodstuffs will be planted, are also factors to be reckoned with."

It is certain that the European countries will not be able to plant their usual crops. The people—both combatants and noncombatants—must be fed from this side the Atlantic, and the United States is the nearest and most reliable source of supply. Notwithstanding the loss in cotton, the yield to the farmers of this country aggregated a total of nearly ten billions of dollars, which points to more freight for the railroads and an increase in business in general. The banks have not increased their rates of interest or decreased their line of discounts. The business men of the country are wearing optimistic glasses and looking for a substantial recovery.

IMPERIAL VALLEY'S FUTURE.
 Strange as it may seem, the only possible menace to the boundless Imperial Valley's future destiny springs from a superabundance, not from a deficiency, of the life-giving water that transformed it originally from a solitude of sun-baked sands into a verdant land of corn, husbandry and plenty. Millions of acres of rich, dry, alluvial soil will be yet added to this agricultural empire if that oversupply can be harnessed and controlled.

That this can and will be done goes without saying. The only question to settle is, shall the madcap Colorado become subject to the government in Washington or shall it owe allegiance to the people of Imperial Valley? For the sake of reaping the full benefits from the imposing of these water waters we believe that Imperial Valley should tackle the problem itself with as little financial assistance from the United States government as possible. The return will be so immense and the valley is already so prosperous that the funds necessary for further work ought to be raised among the people who will have to control it in the future.

There are, of course, large operations to be carried out on the river itself, some of which are outside the jurisdiction of the county authorities. Logically, the settlers have a right to expect from Washington as much financial aid for the Colorado as has been given to the Mississippi. In the "Mother of Waters" our government has spent for levees work $20,000,000. The same amount of money should be forthcoming, if the call be made, for reservoirs and dams along the Colorado. After that Imperial county will surely be willing to pledge itself for the necessary upkeep of the new works. Every dollar spent will multiply a hundredfold.

BIRDS AND MEN.
 We are sorry to have it established that there can be no interstate protection of game. A wild goose takes chances on his life the minute he crosses the State line. He may go right to the line and pluck barley in Washington and even stretch his neck across into Oregon without losing his head as long as he watches his feet, but let him step over the dead-line and it is a private funeral for him—that is, if Oregon does not think the same. The only thing that a migratory bird to do besides taking out a life insurance policy when he travels is to carry a map of America under his wing and keep clear of State's rights. He might also send missionaries to those States that are insensible to humane laws about birds and try to get some bird bills through their several Legislatures. For instance, Louisiana is no respecter of robins. The people down there slaughter them for food. We suppose they use them to make some sort of creole sauce. Anyway, a robin, besides being a grand little traveler, is a good friend to man because he is an enemy to pernicious insects. In spite of the robin's usefulness it would be the mistake of his life to try to benefit anybody living at New Orleans or Baton Rouge. Until men are kinder or birds are wiser migration will be poor business for the feathered tribe.

The Man of the Hour.

BELOW AT AMERICAN SHIPPING.
 The "Nation's Business," a monthly publication issued at Washington by the United States Chamber of Commerce, in its issue of March 15 calls attention to the fact that the total exports and imports of the United States in 1914 amounted in value to $293,613,259, of which 75 per cent was carried in American vessels. In 1914 the total value of exports and imports reached the sum of $428,504,805 and only 8.6 per cent of it was carried under the American flag. These figures show that in sixty-five years the relative capacity of our foreign-going ships has fallen off till it is only a little more than one-eighth of its former proportions. Yet during that time the United States has become one of the leading industrial and commercial nations of the world.

American freight has been carried in British ships because it was carried cheaper. It was carried cheaper because British sailors are not paid so well nor paid so well as American sailors and because British navigation laws are not filled with onerous, vexatious and costly restrictions upon ocean-going vessels, as is the case with our laws.

It may be conceded that the members of the last Congress—now happily adjoined—had an honest purpose to restore American maritime commerce. But in their efforts to bring this about they seemed obsessed with a desire to prescribe methods, the inevitable result of which would be to hamper and harass American shipping rather than to help it. For instance, the seaman's act passed by Congress abolishes arrest and encourages desertion by compelling the shipmaster to pay a deserter one-half of the wages due him in any port, although he may have shipped for a round voyage and contracted to receive his wages at the end thereof. It regulates the manning of vessels, division of watches at sea, and establishes ratings for able seamen and lifeboat men—all of which might better have been left to ship captains.

The most absurd provision of the law, and one that will work the greatest injury to American shipping on the Pacific Ocean, is the language test clause, which requires that 75 per cent in every department of the crew shall be able to understand any order given by the officers. This was doubtless intended to compel the employment of Americans or Europeans, instead of Lascars and Japanese, on vessels engaged in the Asiatic trade, but it will be more apt to drive American vessels out of the Pacific-carrying trade and turn it over to the Japanese.

What men in the shipping business think of this is shown by these words of an official reported in the New York Sun:

"The provision requiring that ultimately 75 per cent of the men on every ship must be able to understand the speech of the officers hits hard at ships in the Atlantic as well as in the Pacific trade. That provision includes the fire-room force, and on coal-burning ships most of the firemen are Spaniards. They are the only ones who seem to be able to stand the work. Most of the Spaniards speak only Spanish, and comparatively few officers have a command of that language."

"At present in the Pacific the Japanese have control of most of the off-shore trade. That language rule means that in all probability the entire off-shore trade will be turned over to the Japanese, since it isn't likely that the American Pacific ships will be able to get competent officers with a knowledge of Chinese and Japanese. The ships couldn't succeed with English-speaking crews, even if they could be obtained."

"The probable result of the whole matter will be the formation of an international seamen's union which will dominate the shipping industry."

In the same paper is a paragraph from a dispatch from President Scheraga of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company:

"With the enactment of such a law the Pacific Mail can do nothing but go out of business. It will be impossible for us to compete with the Japanese steamships employing oriental labor and subsidized by the Japanese government. Under this bill our operating expenses would be increased 200 per cent."

The Boston Transcript comments upon this statement as follows:

"Japanese steamers will not be affected by the terms of our seamen's law, or need not be affected, because so far as they carry Chinese they carry them in less than as expected from a civilized chief. Their manifestation at unexpected times is bound to give serious concern to his sponsors who have maintained that this extraordinary sort of nature became tamed and civilized over night and without regard to the ordinary processes of evolution."

Something like a miracle must occur to change the tribal character of the most of the Mexican population if a dictatorship which will meet with general acceptance and enable the groundwork of constitutional government to be established comes out of the present chaos. If the miracle continues lacking, alternative propositions will have to be considered.

Heretofore the lives and property of foreigners in Mexico have been treated as a mere incident in the situation. But with the failure of Mexico to solve her own problem and with the discordant factions continuing to rend one another, the solution from without may come naturally. This, of course, means intervention, and intervention would mean that the United States would be entering upon the solution of the biggest Indian problem it has ever undertaken. It also would mean an orderly solution and the protection of lives while the Indian capacity for constitutional government is tested.

ABOUT INTOXICANTS.
 By Ivan Richardson.

Kisses were the first intoxicants and have always been pretty highly taxed. The man who is too tired to help his wife hang pictures will walk blocks to get a cocktail.

Some people try to tell us that a prohibitionist is simply a poor judge of whiskey. A good woman and a dog are the only things that will stick to a drunkard as he goes down hill.

A man's first drink and the cut of a woman's first décolleté gown are the real tests of their finer moral fiber.

The oft-emptied bottle and the empty wallet are boon companions.

Crooking the elbow is one form of exercise which has never contributed towards masculine development.

Most indiscretions are first viewed through the bottom of a glass.

The real difference between a prohibitionist and a "rounder" is that one takes a club after a tipple and the other takes a tipple at his club.

One's nose should not be made to blush for the sins of their palate.

The difference between good whiskey and bad whiskey is that one makes your grave cost more.

If national prohibition ever comes to pass fishing will go out of fashion.

CHAOS AND ANARCHY IN MEXICO.

National Editorial Service.
 BY CHARLES M. PEPPER,
 Former Trade Expert, United States Department of State.

THE general Mexican situation is chaos. The particular Mexican situation as applied to some sections of the unhappy country is anarchy. The murder of Americans, the imprisonment of priests and unmentioned outrages are incidents of chaos and anarchy.

Constitutional government may emerge from chaos; popular political institutions may be evolved from anarchy, but it is only by keeping in mind that the human factors in it are Indian race factors, with a thin veneer of Spanish civilization, and acting accordingly that an understanding of the situation may be obtained.

The peon, four-fifths Indian and one-fifth Spanish, keeps on fighting his brother peons and murdering foreigners because he does not know any better, and also because he is not ready to settle down and cultivate the soil or engage in peaceful work. The land has been taken from the great landholders in his name. If his land-hunger were consuming there would be no rival armies in the field, because the peon would become a farmer and the ranks would not be filled. So long as he finds life easier as a soldier the soil will not claim him.

The peon follows his Indian nature and fights under his chief, to all intents a tribal chief, with little conception of Mexican unity or nationality. The Mayas of Yucatan with their vestiges of high civilization have nothing in common with the unconquerable Yaquis of Sonora. They lately have given decided evidence of their indifference to any national tie by repudiating both Carranza and Villa and in conjunction with the neighboring states of Chihuahua and Campeche setting up an ad interim government of their own.

When Huerta was driven out by the influence of the United States acting through the Washington administration there was a possible Mexican solution of the Mexican situation. This was the appearance of some individual who could establish himself as dictator and, by firm military control, get the distracted country back where the Diaz dictatorship had left it, reconcile the military chiefs so that they would subordinate their jealousies and ambitions in a generous patriotism, which would make for Mexican nationality and add something tangible to the material and moral welfare of the most of the population so that they would really feel the touch of it.

Villa was the subject of these expectations. The most capable military chieftain in Mexico, he has maintained his reputation as a commander by adding somewhat to the territory under his control. Future campaigning may add more territory to the north, but as he gains in one section he loses in another, so that little real progress is made toward the supreme dictatorship.

His supreme authority to acknowledge his office, for one reason, because they, too, are chiefs. They are the product of revolutionary times in which the fighting man who has a knack of military leadership comes to the front and leads the men of his locality who look to him as the tribal chief and give allegiance as such because he is one of them. Scordit of some of these leaders have shown themselves to be and intent on plunder, they are not without local or sectional patriotism. They want their men to share in the spoils and they do not want their section merged into the whole country.

This local patriotism or sectional selfishness is the chief bar to the establishment of a recognized central authority with its roots in genuine Mexican nationality. It is not possible, for example, in existing circumstances to imagine the state of Morelos repudiating Zapata, and Zapata, whether a surface harmony be assumed or not, never will subordinate himself to Villa as the big chief. Nor will any supreme dictator in Mexico City be able to vindicate his supremacy by turning the majority of the inhabitants of Sonora and Jalisco away from Obregon.

Villa himself, notwithstanding his military talents and some opportunistic qualities which show political talent, is still a Chihuahua Indian, an aboriginal savage of the Sierra Madre, whose passions are not always kept in leash as is expected from a civilized chief. Their manifestation at unexpected times is bound to give serious concern to his sponsors who have maintained that this extraordinary sort of nature became tamed and civilized over night and without regard to the ordinary processes of evolution.

Something like a miracle must occur to change the tribal character of the most of the Mexican population if a dictatorship which will meet with general acceptance and enable the groundwork of constitutional government to be established comes out of the present chaos. If the miracle continues lacking, alternative propositions will have to be considered.

Heretofore the lives and property of foreigners in Mexico have been treated as a mere incident in the situation. But with the failure of Mexico to solve her own problem and with the discordant factions continuing to rend one another, the solution from without may come naturally. This, of course, means intervention, and intervention would mean that the United States would be entering upon the solution of the biggest Indian problem it has ever undertaken. It also would mean an orderly solution and the protection of lives while the Indian capacity for constitutional government is tested.

RIPLING RHYMES.
CLEAN UP.

Now let us give the war a rest, the rout, the siege, the ally, and gaily send our coat and vest and go and clean the alley. Let's rather up the dogs and cats which have this life departed, and let tin cans and bricks and hats off to the dump be carted. In winter you may voice your views, which you believe important, and base long sermons on the news, but in the spring you'd ortn't. Then, every able-bodied man should whoop the "Clean Up" slogan, and chase the old tomato can, the castoff hat and brogan. So let us clean our bustling brows of trifling thoughts and narrow, and gather up the old debris, and sweep the rate and harrow. The rubbish left by careless men, and lazy human cheeses, will bring a host of germs again, and they'll bring pest diseases. And forty billion flies will come, as many microbes bearing, and round our weary heads they'll hum, and keep us busy swatting. Clean up! Clean up! On every block let all the workers rally! No man should stand around and talk until he's cleaned his alley! WALT MASON.

THE GOOD HOUSEKEEPER'S HINT: If one of your good table cloths is wearing out along the folds, cut off a few inches from either side and end so as to change the place of folding. This will prolong the life of the cloth considerably.

These are the golden days when we are put to our wits and to plan the best ways of spending the time for the entertainment of our visiting friends who must soon return to the "way-back-East."

With an embarrassment of riches in the way of trips, it is a question how to growl the most into the fewest hours. When on a recent lovely morning we called for our kin and in-laws, and after a whirl about town, to point out the various places of interest according to our own personally-conducted notions, we took that winding way through old Pasadena, via the Annandale Country Club, with its greenward and its fine old trees between which we caught fleeting glimpses of the great snowy peaks, over that wonderful bridge across the Arroyo Seco and into Pasadena, with its atmosphere of opulence and winter luxury, our friends voted, even at that stage of the journey, that they were spending hours which they would never forget. They ruled their eyes when we drove up before the Pig 'n' Whistle, and asked in a puzzle if they were in a dream or whether there were little dancing pigs everywhere in California. We assured them that there were many, but none so many, and as their eyes were fastened charmingly upon the little row of pinky porkers dancing across the thin, slender silver shafts, baskets of silver pierced work, and in fact everything in silver, as it seemed, which had ever been devised for holding flowers was there. When I looked at the silver vases I felt sure that nothing could be as lovely for holding blossoms; but when I gazed upon the receptacles of crystal, I was equally charmed. To every flower its own sort—was my final conclusion. Some posies look well in the commonest of earthen ware, provided the shape and color be artistic and others seem to require finest-of materials for their housing, just as some women best wear tailored garments and others require furbelows.

A China Sale.
At that household basement, where china and "all such" for the house are found in such profusion and in such excellent quality, there is a sale affording opportunity to secure at true bargain, many odds and ends for the table, as well as bric-a-brac. "I am keeping away," said my neighbor whose bustling sin is buying china, "for I know many lovely things are there, and if I go I am certain to be tempted beyond endurance. Well, nothing adds more to the beauty of the home than handsome china and bric-a-brac. And when it may be secured at much-for-less cost, I do not regard it as an extravagance. Do you?"

Handy Tables for Less.
Those handy little tables which tuck their legs up so cleverly and so out of the way as to make themselves always welcome in small quarters, are to be had this week for about half the usual price at that big Broadway store where bargains are often a feature. For breakfast upon the porch, for luncheon or tea in some unusual place, these easily movable tables are most convenient. Every household should have one of them.

Welcome to a Clothes Artist.
That French madame, so well known and so much sought by those most critical in dress, has again returned to the realms of couturier, and it really seems as though her hands had gained a new cunning, through the rest which she has given them. It means much to entrust fine materials to hands of strangers and that is why those in the know are so happy in finding again at her post, madame. She it was who so skillfully incorporated into a striking costume a superbly embroidered shawl without in anywise injuring the shawl. The shawl, which cost about $600, was almost too valuable to use in dressmaking, but when given into such hands as those of madame, it could

A.A.U. BOXING ENTRIES CLOSE.

Registration Committee to Pass on Them.

Two St. Joseph Boys Break Their Hands.

Tom Othmer to Have a Hard Time.

Two of the St. Joseph Club's best boxers were ruled out of the A.A.U. boxing tournament, which is to be held at the Shrine Auditorium Thursday and Friday of this week. They are Frank Owen, a welterweight, and Emanuel Centares in the 125 and 135-pound classes.

The club doctor examined their hands yesterday and found both boys suffering from broken bones in the right hand, sustained nearly a week ago in try-out bouts. They had kept the matter dark, as they did not want to lose out, but were forced to disclose the injuries yesterday afternoon.

The entry list for the A.A.U. boxing championship tournament, which is to be held Thursday and Friday evenings at the Shrine Auditorium, closed last night with forty-eight boxers on the books, minus the two St. Joseph boys who were forced to drop out yesterday, owing to broken hands, injuries sustained during training.

The list of boxers went into the hands of the A.A.U. Boxing and Registration Committee last night for the final weighing out. The drawings will be announced tomorrow night, and no boxer will know who his opponent is going to be, until he sees the list at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Another high school lad entered yesterday, in the person of Eddie Mattia, from the Anaheim Union High School. They say that Eddie has taken the measure of everything in the featherweight division and is about the fastest 115-pounder around the little city anywhere.

This makes three school boys now entered in the tournament. The other two are George Bean, of the Army and Navy Military Academy, but who is now competing under the colors of the San Diego Rowing Club, and Gerald Schellbach, of Manual Arts High in the 199-pound class.

PHARRIS FEVERED.

Big Bill Pharris, of the L.A.A.C., and also the winner of the heavy-weight title for Southern California in the last tournament here, entered yesterday. He thought at first that his condition was not all that it should be, but when he worked out yesterday, found that he was sounder of limb, mind and muscle than he had first supposed. Besides, the talk of the men on the outside of the club, regarding what was and is going to happen to the L.A.A.C. boxers, somewhat rattled Big Bill and now he is going to step out and tear off a few arms and legs, as well as a few rounds.

AFTER OTHERS.

Clifford Jordan, of the St. Joseph Club, entered in the 155-pound class yesterday. He has been rounding into condition slowly, but during the past two days has made weight and jumped into form at it. Jordan says that he is looking for Tom Othmer of the L.A.A.C., and only hopes that he will be fortunate enough to meet up with the winner of the Mercury tournament. Fred Steadman is also looking for Tom, therefore it looks as though Tommie would have at least two very little battles before the tournament is over.

The boxers are all to meet at the Shrine Auditorium between 1 p.m. and 7 p.m. tomorrow night to weigh in and to find out who will meet who and when.

HUGHES TO DRIVE NEW PORTER CAR.

FORMER LIGHT CAR CHAMPION TO DRIVE IN RACE AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Hughes Hughes is to drive at Indianapolis in the next 500-mile race on the Speedway. He is to be at the wheel of one of Finley H. Porter's new speed creations. The deal was closed by wire yesterday, and Hughes is to leave for the East within a few days. His contract calls for his appearance at the Porter establishment not later than April 15.

Last week Porter, who is well known throughout the country as the former chief engineer of the Mercer company, wired to Fred J. Wagner for Hughes Hughes' address. Wagner turned the telegram over to the former light-car champion, and he wired his address to the eastern manufacturer.

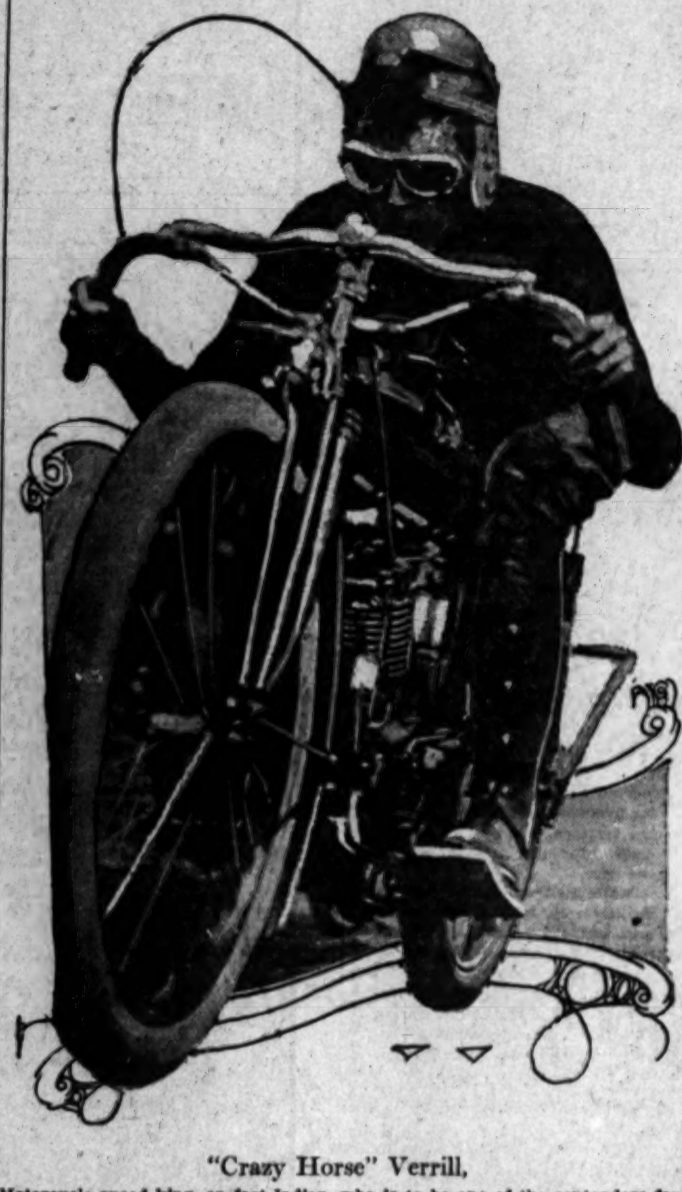

The wire came back with the news that Porter wanted to sign Hughes to drive one of his cars during the next season, starting at Indianapolis. Hughes wired his terms East and the contract was closed by telegraph.

Porter was the designer for the Mercer company, when Hughes was setting a fast pace throughout the country on a Mercer in 1911 and 1912, and he said in his wire communications that the car would be Hughes' indefinitely if the association proved satisfactory on both sides. Hughes said yesterday that the put great faith in Porter's ability to build the greatest car in America, and that there was nothing that he would like better than to chance to pilot one of the three F.R.P. racers in the great speed meets of the country during the coming season.

Over the wire, Porter stated that his cars were good for 120 miles an hour, and Hughes says that they are the finest jobs seen on an American race course in many years.

ROSE AND LEWIS WIN AT BILLIARDS.

Rose and Lewis defeated Cone and Steinman by 46 points to 29 in 55 innings; with high run of three by Rose and Lewis, last night in the National Brunswick three-cushion tournament. Sandor and Gaskill play Bowler and Cone this evening.

"Crazy Horse" Verrill.

Motorcycle speed king, on fast Indian, who is to be one of the contenders for honors in the 500-mile Venice Motorcycle Grand Prix race on the Venice parkway next Sunday.

MOTORCYCLE SPEED BUGS TEAR ON VENICE COURSE.

WHEN the motorcycles began to spin around the three-mile Venice course at seventy miles an hour and better all those riders on the track dug up their stop-watches to see "how much" Joe Walters and "Red" Parkhurst had in speed, and Joe Walters, who slid on the course unobserved, was at once picked out by his rivals, who had watched his back on many an eastern track. "Red" Parkhurst could not deceive any of them, for his style of sitting the machine was too well known, but Walters got around several times before many knew that he was in California.

Joe Walters figures on a speed average of sixty-five miles an hour winning the race, though his strongest rival, Don Johns, is counting on keeping up a seventy-mile Indiana.

The Indian factory team is not giving away any more information than it can help and is domiciled on the back stretch, where the riders go on and off the course instead of at the pits. The men on the red machines dash by a lap or two and then disappear. Walters, who has many private owners riding Indians in the race that it is hard to get a line on the Springfield factory men.

"Spec" Warner of Kansas is in charge of the team, with old Warhorse Baker of Indianapolis helping to advise the side of the team and plan signals. Baker has not yet been seen on the course. Like Walters, he has stated the track up so well and knows the hard work ahead of him that he is not wasting any strength or straining his machine any more than he can.

TACOMA DEMANDS PURCHASE MONEY.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, March 23.—Suit for $1500 was filed here today in behalf of the Tacoma Club of the Northwestern Baseball League against the National Commission, the members of which are August Herrmann, H. B. Johnson and John K. Tener.

The bill alleges that the commission refused to turn over money paid by the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh Nationals for two purchased players.

HUNT PUTS VETO ON ARIZONA RACES.

GOVERNOR ALSO KNOCKS BILL IN THE HEAD WHICH AFFECTS HIS AUTO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

PHOENIX, March 23.—The bill passed in the last hour of the Legislature permitting the use of the permit system of race-track betting in Arizona was vetoed this evening by Gov. Hunt. He stated it seems to him in opposition to the popular anti-gambling sentiment of Arizona, and called attention to the fact that the 1600 petitioners against the act in themselves were sufficient to invoke a referendum against it.

He vetoed also a pet bill of the banking association covering the floating of bad checks, and a bill aimed at himself prohibiting payment of chauffeurs on cars owned by the State. He said the bill would hurt the State Engineer's office.

BIG BASEBALL MEN FAVOR CLOSING MINOR LEAGUES.

Ban Johnson's Suggestion Meets with Approval. Chivington, Timme, Tobeau and Thomas Agree with American League Head—People in the Small Towns Need Baseball Rest.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, March 23.—Ban Johnson's suggestion to lock the gates of the minor league clubs for the good of the game is likely to have far-reaching effect on baseball. Those more closely allied with the major leagues are almost unanimously in favor of the plan while the leagues most affected fear that the scheme may be carried out now that the head of the American League has turned the spot light on the existing conditions.

BEST THING.

"Best thing in the world for baseball," President Thomas of the C.A.B. Association of the American Association, "Johnson's plan would clarify the situation as now existing immensely. That the only real game thing I have heard since the baseball squabble started," asserted M. E. Cantillon, owner of the Minneapolis club.

"Ban Johnson tells the truth about baseball conditions," said President Timme of the Milwaukee club. "Close the gates of a lot of these minor league clubs for a year and then let us get back to a safe and sane basis."

NEED REST.

"Give the people in small towns a rest and then see how the game will be revived," said George Tobeau, Kansas City. "I am also strong for Johnson's idea about abolishing training trips. They are getting to be a joke. Let the players report in trim for playing."

"It might be a good thing to carry out President Johnson's suggestion. As to the training trip idea, it is next to impossible to make any money in the South as the people down there are surfeited with exhibition games. The novelty has worn off and there is no reason why we could not get as good results in some other way."

PREP CHAMPIONSHIPS TO BRING OUT FAST TIME.

ALL the high school athletes who are to participate in the Southern California track and field meet to be held on the Y.M.C.A. athletic campus next Saturday are applying the finishing touches to their training preparatory to entering the various events.

Judging from the various track meets held this season the present indications are to the effect that numerous former records will be demolished beyond recognition. In many instances the various high schools have turned out men who have been making exceptionally speedy time in the sprints, while in the weight and height have been of record-breaking caliber.

RECORD-BREAKERS.

With nearly 200 entrants participating in the meet, there is every reason to believe that many new records will be established. High schools from all over Southern California have entered their respective representatives in the meet, and so closely do the men compare that it is expected that the team winning three or four first places will last year's winners, Long Beach, will be out in full force in an endeavor to duplicate their performance of last season. No end of interest has been aroused among the city schools and the previous attendance records are expected to be broken.

Coach Otto Fritsch of Manual has announced that he will enter his crack runner, George, only in the 80-yard dash in this event, but Crippen is man in the half-mile, but is a demon when turned adrift in the 440-yard dash. All told, Manual will have an even score of entrants in the meet.

GREAT HOUSE.

The individual star of the meet will in all probability be House of Riverside High. All season this person has been carrying on something awful for a mere high-schooler, and considerable interest is centered around him.

League meet, House won four first places. In the 100-yard dash he was 16.1-16. It is hardly possible that better time than this will be registered in the all-southern classic.

House moved down over the 120 hurdles for another first place, and it required him but 15.4-15 seconds in which to complete his trip. In the 220 he finished first in 23.1-23 seconds, which is remarkable time for the prep. Twenty feet, nine inches was the distance he crept through the atmosphere in the broad jump. In addition to being a star in the above mentioned events, House is capable of participating in practically every event chalked down on the programme, and many who have seen him in action maintain that were a single track meet to be held in two days time, House would probably win the largest number of first places, and would practically win a medal all by his lonesome.

In the mile run, some wonderful time is expected to be hung up. This Putnam of Hollywood sprung a great surprise by causing Crippen, Poly's crack mile runner, to lose the fishing ribbon in second place. Being a natural miler, Putnam will give the best of them a good run for their money in this event, but Crippen is man in the half-mile, but is a demon when turned adrift in the 440-yard dash.

Seventh period—This chukkur was marked by spirited riding on the part of the players of both teams. Midwick was penalized a half a point for a foul when Drury crossed. Cooperstown player on the south boards near the stand. He was thrown from his mount, as a result, but escaped with a slight shaking up.

Stage missed two chances for a score in this period by driving the ball outside of the goal posts.

Eighth period—The Cooperstown players showed a flash of their reform in the concluding chuckle. Midwick was first to score when Walter Rumsay kicked from the right side a lead of one goal, even without handicap. This advantage apparently spurred the Cooperstown players to make a desperate effort to win the goals in which Rumsay and Stevens featured.

Public Service: City Hall, Courts.

At the City Hall.

HAMLIN TO MAKE
REPLY TO BOARD.CITY ENGINEER FRAMING AN ANSWER TO CRITICISM.

Commissioners Osborne and O'Brien Determined to Make Change on First of Month—Fight on Engineer Two Years Ago Recalled by Recent Ouster Action.

City Engineer Hamlin is preparing a statement to the Board of Public Works in defense of his conduct of the office and in reply to the criticism made by Commissioners Osborne and O'Brien of the board. The statement will be forthcoming in a few days. The City Engineer would not outline yesterday what his defense will be, nor will he admit that it is really a "defense." The stoical silence he has maintained during all the years he has been City Engineer is not broken even by a request for his resignation. Commissioners Osborne and O'Brien are determined that City Engineer Hamlin shall not hold office after April 1, on which date the promise to name Assistant Engineer Hansen in his place, and demote Office Deputy Clausen, bringing the new City Engineer in contact with the public. The attempt on the part of friends of City Engineer Hamlin to force the whole matter into the Council was said yesterday by the engineer, but consumption, since the Mayor has indicated that he is in sympathy with the request for Mr. Hamlin's resignation and will approve such action as the majority of the Board of Public Works may see fit.

The present crisis in the office of City Engineer Hamlin started two years ago when a majority of the City Council declined to ask the Board of Public Works to remove Mr. Hamlin, over the charges that specifications were changed in the Hill-street tunnel. Former Councilmen Topham, Andrews and Reed voted to oust the engineer, but the resolution to this effect, offered by Mr. Topham, was defeated. At that time it was charged that embezzled the had been substituted for glass brick in the facing of the tunnel, contrary to specifications. Deputy Engineer Tuttle took the blame for the change and Mr. Hamlin denied any responsibility for it. The result was that Mr. Tuttle resigned.

GOING! GOING!
BOND FOR AUCTIONEERS.

An ordinance regulating auctioneers and requiring them to give bond to protect buyers from misrepresentation will be the subject of a public hearing next Tuesday before the Public Safety Committee. The committee discussed the ordinance yesterday, but took no action. Complaints were made that auctioneers represent articles to be of a quality they do not prove to be after purchase. In one instance a public complaint that he paid $1000 for a set of alleged mahogany that afterward turned out to be veneered pine. The ordinance proposes to make auctioneers give sufficient bonds so that when a buyer is bilked by goods he may recover upon showing the misrepresentation. The committee recommended the adoption of a traffic ordinance change which provides that vehicles shall not stand within twenty-five feet of theater entrances nor within ten feet of rear exits to theaters. This recommendation came upon the urgent request of Fire Chief Eley, who said that it was in the interest of protecting the public from possible fires.

SCORES COLLEAGUES.
WHITTEN TALKS DEFICIT.

President Whitten, who is chairman of the Finance Committee, charged his colleagues in the Council yesterday with "indiscriminate voting of money from the general expense fund," to the extent of depleting that fund.

The criticism from President Whitten arose over the effect of Councilman Betkouski to have an increase made in the salary of Deputy City Attorney Hilborn, who is specializing in the city's water suits. City Attorney Stephens also recommended the increase in salary but President Whitten caused the matter to be referred to the Public Safety Committee to ascertain if that body will pay the salary, since Mr. Hilborn is employed solely upon water matters in conjunction with the work of Special Counsel Matthews.

The indiscriminate voting of money by this Council," said President Whitten, "has depleted the general fund and we are compelled to go into the reserve. The budget won't permit of salary increases, such as have been voted here, but we may be able to increase some salaries when the next budget is made up."

Awards on Homes.

Awards on the city health department competition for architects' drawings of model homes for workingmen will be made by a jury already selected within thirty days, according to the monthly bulletin of the department just issued. Dr. Powers, City Health Commissioner, says that numerous cities of California have shown interest in the competition and letters of inquiry have also been received from Arizona, New York, Texas and Illinois.

Dr. Powers, in expressing his appreciation for the interest and support given the public milk stations, says that the one great need at present is for some one to take the place of the monthly allowance for the expenses incidental to maintaining the stations so that their uninterrupted continuance may be assured during the summer.

In connection with the competition in the workmen's home drawings Dr. Powers said yesterday that arrangements would be completed in the near future to place the competitive drawings on exhibition.

Way for Lowering.

The City Engineer was asked yesterday by the Board of Public Works to report on the feasibility of closing the Broadway tunnel today so that work may be started on the lowering of the tunnel grade. Lynn S. Atkinson, contractor, who requested that work be started with a steam shovel as soon as the conduits are removed. He said that the Economic Gas Company had already removed its pipe line, but so far the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation has not started its work.

Getting Signers.

E. L. Williams, manager of the association of "jitney" bus owners, who filed his petition for Councilman yesterday, said the referendum petition against the "jitney" ordinance now has more than half the necessary signers and will be presented April 3. The initiative petition, he said, will be filed April 14.

Rebuke Hospital Attache.

Councilmen Whitten and Bryant of the Public Safety Committee yesterday gave sharp criticism to Assistant Police Surgeon Hillier for his alleged discourteous treatment of J. Reese, a teamster, who went to the Receiving Hospital for treatment of an injured eye. Mr. Reese charged that Dr. Hillier used rough language to him. Dr. Hillier's defense was that Mr. Reese asked for whiskey as soon as he appeared at the hospital. The result was that Mr. Reese was rebuked by the committee, as well as Dr. Hillier. The committee informed attaches of the Receiving Hospital that they must be more courteous in future.

Municipal Settings.

Instructions were given by the City Engineer yesterday by the Council to furnish a detailed report on the work done by the City Engineer in the protection of the Arroyo Seco. The Council yesterday passed the ordinance for the improvement of Hoover street from Grand View avenue to Wilshire place and for the improvement of Eighth street from Grand View avenue to Vermont avenue and for the change in grade of Highland street from Grand View avenue to Carondelet and the change in Park View avenue from Seventh street to Ninth street were also adopted.

The City Engineer was instructed by the City Council yesterday to take charge of the maintenance of the potted palms in the business district and to report on the cost of the work, with an estimate for the season. Protests against the opening and extending of Santa Cruz street, between Center street and Palms Verdes and against the widening of Palms Verdes streets will be heard by the City Council, April 7.

SAYS FATHER
IS AT FAULT.WHITTEN BANK PRESIDENT
NAMED IN SUIT.

Son Alleges Sire is Using for Own Gain Property Conveyed by Both His Parents to Himself and Brothers and Sisters Through Trust Deed.

A trust deed, made by J. Allen Osmun and his wife, to be held for the benefit of the five children, forms the basis of the suit brought by Leigh Osmun against his father, J. Allen Osmun, director and president of the Whittier National Bank; A. C. Johnson, trustee, and the Whittier National Bank to enforce the trust agreement.

It is alleged that in May, 1914, the elder Osmun and Mrs. Osmun made the trust agreement and named Mr. Johnson trustee. The deed covers property at Whittier. The agreement was to be placed in escrow in bank until the death of either Mr. Osmun or his wife, and was to be held in trust for the benefit of the five children, until the youngest reached the age of thirty years.

Mrs. Osmun died May 12, 1914, eight days after the trust agreement was signed, and two days later, Leigh Osmun learned that the trust agreement had not been fulfilled. He alleges that the deed had not been delivered by the bank to Mr. Johnson and that his father was using the property as his own, to the exclusion of the children. Under the trust agreement, the deed was to be delivered to Mr. Johnson, as one of the parties to it had passed away.

FILLS LONELY NICHES.

NOW MAY LOSE BABY.

When Geneva Ann Vanzant was at her father's bedside, watching her infant daughter to her mother.

"I want you to have the baby as long as you live," she said, "and I give her to you to keep and care for her."

The mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Hunt, wife of a prosperous Imperial county rancher, accepted the charge, and little Nellie Fern Vanzant grew up into a prattling child of 5 years. Then a terrible blow fell. One day two weeks ago, Nellie was in the street at her grandmother's home near Rockwood when her father, Joseph Vanzant, picked her up, carried her to a waiting automobile and drove to Los Angeles.

Grandmother Hunt was heartbroken. Nellie had crept into her heart, and the ranch home was desolated. Every childish article reminded her of her little girl. The dying words of her daughter rang in her ears. She said that Nellie's father, on the day of the funeral, had said to her:

"She is your baby; you can have her."

But she could not recover Nellie unless she appealed to the court, so yesterday Mrs. Hunt asked for a warrant and Presiding Judge Wood gave it to her, demanding that Nellie be brought into court Friday morning at 10 o'clock, on the complaint that she was being unlawfully restrained of her liberty.

The dying promise will be held up against the desire of the father and his second wife to have and to hold his own daughter.

"She is mine," says Mrs. Hunt. "I want my own child," declares Mr. Vanzant.

It promises to be a battle royal over the probability that Nellie may be asked to stay where she wants to go.

Mrs. Hunt alleges that Mr. Vanzant, Nellie's father, came to her frequently to see his daughter, that all he contributed to her support was a case of milk, some clothing and $5, half of which he borrowed of her. His second wife, she says, has a high temper and is not temperamental fit for the custody of the child. On information and belief, she states that Mrs. Vanzant was twice divorced before she married Mr. Vanzant, and since then she has been separated three times.

Mr. Vanzant is a plasterer, but it is alleged that since Mrs. Vanzant inherited $700, half of which was used to purchase an automobile, he has not worked at his trade.

COUNTRY GIRL.
LEARNS MEN BETRAY.

Miss Eva Bradshaw never fully appreciated the truth of Goldsmith's poetry until she met and was wooed by Leonard Dodge, a married man, when the true significance of the words came to her, for she had learned too late that men would give her all.

What chance had this unsophisticated girl, whose innocence was her chief charm, against a man of the world? She, Mrs. Dodge, a married woman, had been seduced by her father's Oregon homestead. She was full of the joy of living, and when she met Dodge and he told her he loved her, she believed him. She believed that she had found her dream palace, she believed him. Then came the awakening.

Yesterday Miss Bradshaw and her baby daughter, the child of her well-dressed mother, were in Judge Monroe's court to give testimony against him. She had shed bitter tears. Her dream palace was shattered and gone was the innocence of her childhood.

Too late she had learned that Dodge was married, and when she met Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Dodge, the wife, she resolved to bare her secret to help her obtain freedom.

Mrs. Dodge was married in September, 1908. She is the niece of Timothy Mulcahy, a well-known operator and recently candidate for Lieutenant-Governor on the Democratic ticket. She also has a young daughter. The suit was brought by Leigh Osmun against his father, J. Allen Osmun, director and president of the Whittier National Bank; A. C. Johnson, trustee, and the Whittier National Bank to enforce the trust agreement.

NO DIVORCE.
THEY LIVE TOGETHER.

Indignantly, evidently appealed more to Mrs. Eva Bradshaw than married life, for it was in evidence yesterday when the divorce suit of Robert E. Austin and Mrs. Austin, who she grew tired of living with him and left. Eighteen months of the life that binds was enough. As one witness testified, she said, "Nothing doing; never again."

"I am not going to begin granting decrees on the ground of desertion to people living together," declared Judge Monroe after learning that Mr. and Mrs. Austin had lived under the same roof for six days, although not as man and wife. The decree was denied.

SHE SMILES.
HE GOES TO JAIL.

"Wait a minute," said M. & King to Bailiff Tom Murphy.

"You come now," replied Bailiff Murphy, and he led Mr. King to the County Jail. The case came on for judgment hoped for by Fanny Briggs Carr, the ex-wife of Mr. King. She smiled, and it was a smile of triumph, a smile she could indulge in without, as she expressed it, "having her head knocked off."

The proceedings yesterday in Judge Shenh's court was the penalty Mr. King paid for failing to obey an order. He was ordered last October not to interfere with the business of his wife, whose face preparations seem to have been the cause of all the litigation between the couple. Mr. King was adjudged guilty of contempt, and when he failed to pay a fine of $25 he was committed to the County Jail.

SUE THE SON.
FATHER IS EXEMPT.

When Hugh Staininger was badly injured in a motorcycle accident, his father, J. R. Staininger, engaged the services of Dr. Conrad Deichmiller, a dentist, to operate on his jaw, which was fractured. The dentist presented a bill for $1021 covering services from September 4, 1911, to January 12, 1912, to Mr. Staininger, the father.

but he refused to pay on the ground that he had made no promise to pay. Dr. Deichmiller brought suit against father and son, the latter about 28 years old, but the son was in Tulare county and was not served. The case was tried by Judge Finlayson yesterday, who gave judgment for the father. He found there was no promise to pay on the part of the father, and therefore he was not liable for the bill. Dr. Deichmiller's remedy is to sue the son.

CRANE ESTATE.
APPOINTMENT ADMINISTRATORS.

Mrs. Charlotte K. Crane and her brother-in-law, George Crane, were appointed administrators of the estate of William S. Crane by Judge Rives yesterday.

Mr. Crane, a prominent realty operator, died February 10, last, leaving an estate valued at more than $500,000. Among his holdings were lots near Westlake Park, upon one of which is located the Leighton Hotel. These lots are valued at $250,000. Property in Michigan is worth $17,500. The administrators' bonds cover personal property only.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.
PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF.

RESTRICTION UPHOLD. The building restrictions of the territory west of West Washington street, 1700 feet beyond Western avenue were upheld by Judge Welborn yesterday in Leonard Dodge vs. James R. Martin and others against James R. Martin and approximately forty other property owners in the district. The suit was brought by Dodge, who is building restrictions, and the effort to introduce apartment-houses in the district was vigorously opposed.

NO APPEAL, SO
WANTS MONEY.CONTESTANT IN SMITH CASE AT SAN DIEGO SEES LAWYER TO RECOVER.

Gertie E. Stewart, who for three years has been a contestant in the estate of William H. Smith of San Diego, alleged in a complaint filed yesterday that Willard Andrews, an attorney, received from her $250 to conduct an appeal to the higher courts, but brought no appeal and when she insisted he refused. Further, she alleges that he knew she had no ground for appeal, and she seeks to recover the amount she paid him, alleging fraud.

Mr. Andrews stated that Mrs. Stewart employed him to go to San Diego and Escondido to investigate the insanity of her mother. She asserted she had numerous witnesses there who would make affidavit that her mother was insane. He said he made several trips and put in probably a year on the case. He found she could not appeal because the time had expired.

Meantime, Mrs. Stewart was paying him so much a month for his services. He told her the witnesses said her mother was not insane, and he refused to file a complaint against her.

'PHONE FRANCHISE
UP IN THE AIR.KICK FROM CITIZENS ON ORDINANCE GRANTING OF FRANCHISE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.] RIVERSIDE, March 22.—The phone franchise question is now in the air as a result of a resolution of the City Council today granting an ordinance granting the Telephone Company a franchise.

Petitions presented on behalf of the Arlington section of the city, cast that the ordinance granting the franchise would be a detriment to the service in all parts of the city. The request of the petitioners is that the City Attorney be instructed to withhold the franchise until the petitioners have been heard. The City Attorney also the offer to supply the city with the use of twenty-five phones.

As the officials of the city are not agreeable to accepting the form of franchise, no vote will be taken on the matter, or the situation, or the franchise, which it has supported with the use of twenty-five phones.

In case the ordinance adopted, the Council would have a referendum to be held by interested parties.
